

Contents

Introduction - Alan Kalish and Spencer Robinson .....xi

Section 1: Taxonomy of TA Training Programs

Chapter 1 – Graduate Student Professional Development: A Decade after Calls for National Reform ..... 1
by Michael S. Palmer

Section 2: Orientations

Chapter 2 – An Introductory Classification of Graduate Teaching Assistant Orientations ..... 19
by S. Spencer Robinson

Section 3: Mentor and Lead TA Programs

Chapter 3 – Assessing Graduate Consultant Programs:
Directors’ Perceptions of Rationales, Content, Activities, and Benefits ..... 37
by Devon Thacker Thomas & Laura L. B. Border

Chapter 4 – Teaching Mentorship Programs for Graduate Student Development..... 53
by Laura N. Schram & Mary C. Wright

Section 4: Teaching Courses

Chapter 5 – Graduate and Professional Student Development:
The Role of the Pedagogy Course ..... 69
by Elizabeth O’Connor Chandler

Chapter 6 – Rethinking Courses in College Pedagogy for the Sciences: An Analysis and Subsequent Model..... 87
by Vivek Kaila & Laura L. B. Border

Section 5: Teaching Certificates

Chapter 7 – Graduate Student Teaching Certificates:
Survey of Current Programs ..... 101
by Linda von Hoene

Chapter 8 – Leveraging Existing PFF Resources to Create a Certificate of University Teaching .....	125
by Amy Criniti Phillips, Steven Hansen, &amp; Laurel Willingham-McLain

Section 6: Other Programming

Chapter 9 – A Comparative Study of GTA Development in Japan and the US.....	147
by Naoshi Kira

Section 7: Conclusion

Chapter 10 – Steps Toward a Framework for an Intended Curriculum for Graduate and Professional Students: How We Talk about What We Do .....	163
by Alan Kalish, S. Spencer Robinson, Laura Border, Elizabeth Chandler, Mark Connolly, Lynn Jones Eaton, Joanna Gilmore, Lauren Griffith, Steve Hanson, Tershia Pinder-Grover, and Linda von Hoene	